

American School Health Association Update

Self-Study Offerings Available at the ASHA Web Site

The American School Health Association is pleased to announce the availability of a variety of self-study offerings on the ASHA web site. Professionals interested in earning continuing nursing education contact hours and continuing education contact hours in health education can download exam sheets and instructions at: http://www.ashaweb.org/continuing\_education.html.

Self-study options available from ASHA include periodicals and publications, and cover a variety of topics and issues. So far, self-study is available for four issues of Health in Action (bullying prevention, sun safety, infectious diseases, and vision care), 1 non-periodical publication on adolescent immunizations, 1 DVD of Pat Cooper on coordinated school health, and 4 articles from the September - December 2006 issues of the Journal of School Health. In addition, ten articles from the August 2006 issue of the Journal of School Health, a special issue on Managing Asthma in Schools are available for free download with self-study questions. To access these articles/exams, go to:

The American School Health Association is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center Commission on Accreditation. ASHA is a designated provider of CECH in health education by the National Commission for Health Education Credentialing, Inc. Join ASHA in Hawaii this summer

In the summer of 2007, the American School Health Association will hold its annual conference from July 9 – 13 at the Ala Moana Hotel in Honolulu, HI. We moved the conference to the summer so people could combine the conference with a vacation. Consider joining us there.
