

Welcoming Light

Janis Porkus

White snow settles on pine needles
Clock bells shiver in the night air
I see the shelter of welcoming light and my heart beats easily for me.

(translated by Tim Matthews)